Russia's Peace Talk Bid Is Unacceptable

MIKOYAN HIS TARGET — A police officer, left, firmly restrains a picket in a group which tried to mob Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan as the Russian arrived at a Detroit club for a reception. Mikoyan was hustled into the club under heavy guard as a crowd threw snowballs and eggs at him, none of which hit their mark. (NEA Telephoto)

Ike, Mikoyan May Discuss It Next Week

Diplomats Promise A Careful Study Of the Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The surprise Soviet bid for a hurry-up 28-nation German peace conference is unacceptable as it stands, diplomatic officials said Saturday. But they promised careful study to see whether the move opens new possibilities for actual negotiation of German issues.

President Eisenhower and Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan are sure to discuss the Soviet proposal when they meet here late this week. The timing of Moscow's announcement Saturday may have been determined by Mikoyan's impending meetings with Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty disclosed that the tentatively selected date of Jan. 19 or 20 had been changed and that a new date will be announced Monday for Mikoyan's call at the White House. The reason for the change, it was learned, is that Eisenhower's schedule then is dominated by his plan to welcome President Arturo Frondizi of Argentina to Washington Jan. 20.

Authorities said Saturday Mikoyan probably will see Eisenhower next Saturday instead. Mikoyan now is touring this country, making speeches urging more trade, better understanding, and better relations between the United States and the Soviet Union and calling for settlement of outstanding issues.

But a week-long analysis of Mikoyan's talks with Dulles, Vice President Nixon, and many private citizens and diplomats here last Sunday and Monday has led State Department officials to the conclusion that so far he has failed to produce any real sign of concession on ending the occupation of Berlin or on any settlement of broad German issues.

Thus, it is felt, Mikoyan has done nothing to break the East-West deadlock over Germany, although he has done quite a bit to make the image of the Soviet leadership in the United States more popular and acceptable.

The impression of some experts here is that the Mikoyan visit and the new note may be designed by Khrushchev to push forward Soviet interests.

Khrushchev evidently is trying to break the Western powers loose from their long-standing German policy and he is using various devices to put pressure on them, these experts believe.

Sedalia Mayor Names Saturday Rawhide Day

Mayor Abe Silverman proclaimed Saturday as "Rawhide" day, with free parking for everyone.

The celebration is in connection with the premier of the television show "Rawhide" which features Sedalia as the eastern terminus of the long cattle trail from Texas to the railroad. The show made its debut on CBS stations Friday night.

The stars of the show, Eric Fleming and Clint Eastwood, were honored with a parade Saturday.

Mayor Silverman declared that the occasion would tie in as a forerunner to the 1960 Centennial celebration, and bring on additional publicity for Sedalia.

He declared that anyone charged with overtime parking during the day would be granted amnesty.

US Envoy To Havana Resigns

Earl E. T. Smith In Disfavor With Castro's Movement

WASHINGTON (AP)—Earl E. T. Smith resigned Saturday as ambassador to Havana, where he was in disfavor with the revolutionary movement of Fidel Castro.

President Eisenhower accepted Smith's resignation in a letter expressing regret and appreciation for his services.

Smith, a New York investment banker and Palm Beach, Fla., resident, had served in the Havana post since May 1957. He was in Washington for consultations with the State Department last week.

Following the overthrow of the Batista regime in Cuba, and said then that he had not heard of a reported movement by Castro followers to force his recall.

Castro had accused Smith of working with ex-dictator Fulgencio Batista last fall to crush the rebel movement. Washington officials denied this.

Asked last Tuesday if he planned to return to Cuba, Smith replied: "Yes, I intend to go back."

Two days later Rep. Wayne L. Hays (D-Ohio) said his House Foreign Affairs subcommittee planned to check on whether the U.S. Embassy in Havana had carried out its duties properly.

"We have a large file of complaints over the way the embassy operated both before and after the revolution," Hays said.

Some American tourists who left Havana in a hurry during the uprising complained that their departure was not aided sufficiently by embassy employees.

Smith's resignation was announced by White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty. Eisenhower is spending the weekend at his lodge near Thurmont, Md. Hagerty declined to discuss reasons for the resignation or its acceptance.

There was no immediate word on who might be named to succeed Smith.

Television Stars Highlight 'Rawhide' Day in Sedalia

Honored With A Parade And Luncheon

Eric Fleming, Cliff Eastwood Appear In True Western Style

"Rawhide" Day in Sedalia was a real occasion even though it was a spur of the moment affair. Two young male stars of the new television series of "Rawhide," Eric Fleming and Cliff Eastwood in their typical western clothes worn in the picture, their hair style of the early days, their sizes, both more than six feet, and their down to earth characteristics appealed to the Sedalians who had the opportunity to see them.

The day started off with a parade, quickly arranged in a few hours by Tom Nash, co-chairman of the public relations committee of the Chamber of Commerce. It was short but effective. The parade was headed by Chief of Police Ralph Hamlin and followed by the Whiteman Air Force Base color guard. Then came the Smith-Cotton High School band, Mayor and Mrs. Abe Silverman, William C. Hopkins, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and Mrs. Hopkins, members of the Chamber board and other dignitaries.

A group of saddle club members in western costumes came next, and suddenly the crowd realized that the two young men in the back were Eric Fleming and Cliff Eastwood. They were readily recognized by those who saw the first of the series Friday night.

The parade started from Seventh and Ohio, north to Main and down Main west to Osage, south on Osage to Third, and if anyone thinks that the people of Sedalia are not ready for any emergency they certainly underestimate its talent. Overhead across Ohio at Third was a large dark green banner that read in big white letters: "Welcome 'Rawhide' Stars." That banner was painted on both sides some time after the planning meeting, which lasted from 9:30 to 10:30 Friday, when it was decided to ask Pat Clark to do the job. Clark evidently went right into action, just like everybody else has done since Mayor Silverman received the call from Hollywood at 6 p.m. Tuesday, for the banner was up for the parade.

The luncheon honoring the two stars was planned for 12:30 Saturday at the Bothwell Hotel and the youngsters, especially the teenage girls, who had come down to see the parade gathered around Fleming and Eastwood in front of the hotel for autographs. There was quite a large crowd of people down to see the parade, too, considering the short notice.

People began to arrive at the hotel for the luncheon around 12 o'clock and it was certainly a representative group of the town and surrounding area, for it was open to the public, and all ages attended, with a number of teenagers and even younger. Many wore western clothes.

The meeting was presided over by Mayor Silverman, with invocation by the Rev. D. Warren Neal. At the head table with the stars were two CBS men, Jim Hardiman and Skip Webster.

Nearly the entire affair was made up of experiences of Sedalia people and Hollywood people from CBS trying to promote "Rawhide" Day in Sedalia to coincide with the starting of the new series.

Eric Fleming was the first introduced and told how they had been working almost a year on the series. When asked about the first of the series shown on CBS channels on Friday night, in which it mentioned Sedalia a couple of times but didn't say "Sedalia, Missouri," Eric said that he was surprised because he didn't know there were any other Sedalias. He had always heard of the Sedalia trail, "Rawhide," he said, is a series of episodes of pushing through about 2,000 head of cattle owned by a group of Texas cattlemen along the Sedalia trail to the railroad here.

Cliff was then introduced and expressed his pleasure at being in Sedalia. He pointed out that they would watch to see that they said "Sedalia, Missouri."

Don Lamm, general chairman of the Sedalia Centennial to be held in 1960, was introduced and gave a brief history, saying that the Missouri Pacific came here in 1861 and for three years was the terminus of the railroad where the southwest trade was brought to be shipped on the railroad. At that time there were about 350 people here, said

One Fatally Injured

Three Young Girls Savagely Bludgeoned

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—Three young girls were savagely bludgeoned Saturday, one fatally, in what police said may have been the outgrowth of a grudge against the dead girl's mother.

Held for questioning was Glenn R. Holscher, 25, Minneapolis, a commercial artist.

Detective Capt. Cliff Egeland said Holscher had been identified as the assailant by one of the girls and by a fourth beating victim, a 15-year-old brother of the dead girl.

Egeland said Holscher showed police where he had concealed a gun under the dashboard of his car after returning home early Saturday. The youngsters evidently were beaten with a gun, police said.

Patricia Gross, 12, died in a hospital three hours after the attack in a rundown South side home where she lived with her sister, Colleen, 8, brother Robert, 15, and mother, Mrs. Irene Gross, a divorcee.

Colleen and Beulah Gully, 7, daughter of a friend of Mrs. Gross, were listed in critical condition with fractured skulls. The Gully girl was spending the night with the Grosses.

Mrs. Gross returned home shortly after the assailant left and found two of the children unconscious and the other two dazed.

Egeland said Holscher told officers there was "bad feeling" between Mrs. Gross and another woman. Holscher said he was given the gun by another man at a tavern party Friday night attended by Holscher, the other woman and two men.

Fire Check for County Schools Is Completed

The fire inspection for the Pettis County schools outside of Sedalia has been completed by Pettis County Fire Chief Ralph Milburn and firemen during their off duty hours. All of the high schools, and two-room schools were inspected, and the one room schools by request.

Chief Milburn sent a report to each school board and pointed out particular fire hazards, and recommended a number of changes, for fire prevention and aid in the evacuation of students in case of fire.

No Promise

The snow and ice gradually is breaking up, but no promise has been issued by the weatherman that there won't be more before the season's over.

Partly cloudy Sunday and Monday. Warmer most of state Sunday and in southeast Sunday night, highs near 40 north-east to 50 southeast.

The temperature Saturday was 16 at 7 a.m. and 43 at 1 p.m. The low Friday night was 15.

The temperature one year ago today, high 54, low 24; two years ago, high 40, low 14; with .01 inch of moisture; and three years ago, high 37, low 15.

Parking Tickets No Good, But Chief Didn't Know

Everything was moving fast in arranging for the premier showing in Sedalia of "Rawhide," a television western series which began a 40-week run on channels 5 out of Kansas City, and 13 out of Jefferson City Friday night. Last-minute arrangements had to be made for the visit to Sedalia of the two western stars, Eric Fleming and Cliff Eastwood.

Mayor Abe Silverman issued a proclamation that amnesty would be granted any person charged with the offense of overtime parking on Saturday, Jan. 10. But the mayor forgot to tell Chief of Police Ralph Hamlin, and Chief Hamlin couldn't notify his police officers.

The chief heard the proclamation read at the luncheon. "I like to tell out of my chair getting up to get out to notify the officers," Chief Hamlin said.

Two books full of parking tickets were issued by the parking meter officers before they got the word. Chief Hamlin said the tickets appearing at police headquarters were being taken care of, while the mayor said anyone calling on him would be given immunity. But all went well, anyway.

Carthage Man Dies As Train Hits His Car

CARTHAGE, Mo. (AP) — Charles Adams, 46, of Carthage, was fatally injured Saturday afternoon when his car was struck by a Frisco freight train here.

Police chief Bill Loyd said Adams' car was struck at a crossing as the train, enroute from Molett to Carthage, entered the city. The car was hit broadside and tossed into a ravine on west side of tracks.

Adams died in a hospital about an hour after the accident.

Boom Is Said Cause Of Plaster Falling

Ray Lacy, 901 West 11th, said Saturday that shortly after a sonic boom was reported to have occurred over Sedalia Friday, he found the plaster had tumbled from walls and ceiling in several rooms of his house. He said the damage was entirely covered by insurance. The sound of the boom, which was heard at 11:53 p.m., startled many residents, and several reported the concussion jarred their homes.

They're Labor and Horse Race Betting

Missouri Legislative Spotlight Soon to Fall on 2 Big Struggles

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — The legislative spotlight soon will be on two big struggles in Missouri—organized labor's bitter fight for repeal of the state's utility anti-strike act and an effort to produce revenue by permitting at the track betting on horse races.

Neither is new in the legislative halls here but this time the sponsors feel their support is growing.

Take the repealer. On the first day of the new session last Wednesday the bill was introduced to wipe out Missouri's 12-year-old law barring loss of any vital utility service because of a strike or lockout.

The bill has been offered before with the sponsors making a real effort despite an inner feeling it was a lost cause.

This time John I. Rollings of St. Louis, president of the merged AFL and CIO union groups in Missouri, confidently announced that labor has the strength to pass the repealer in both houses of the legislature.

Quick action is in the picture, too. Rep. Thomas A. Walsh (D) of St. Louis, a union member himself and beginning his second term as chairman of the house labor committee, gave only five days' notice of the first hearing on the bill.

Before he left Jefferson City for the weekend Thursday, he posted typed notice on the house bulletin board that sponsors of the repealer would be heard before his committee the night of Tuesday, Jan. 13. Opponents of the bill were given only until Jan. 14 to prepare their case for continuation of the act.

Other committee chairmen announced their plans for next week during Thursday's open session, Walsh did not.

A routine check of the bulletin board was the first notice outsiders had that the bill would receive such quick committee consideration.

The law, used or threatened a number of times to prevent loss of electrical or transportation services in Kansas City and St. Louis, permits the state to take over and operate any vital utility if a union strike or management lockout is imminent.

Many of its provisions already have been approved by the Missouri Supreme Court and one other section is being tested now.

The horse-racing bill isn't in yet but is scheduled for introduction late this month by Sen. Jack C. Jones (D) of Carrollton.

He said he thought with the safeguards in it, the underworld can be kept from taking over and at the same time Missouri can tap a new source of much needed revenue.

Jones said he believed it would allow the operation of spring and fall meetings, of up to 30 days each at St. Louis, Kansas City and possibility at the state fairgrounds at Sedalia.

Saturday Night

Four Persons Injured, One Severely, in One-Car Wreck

Four persons were injured, one severely, in a one-car accident just south of the Flat Creek bridge on state highway 135 about 9:30 p.m. Saturday.

Severely injured was Nancy McPherson, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McPherson, Higginsville. She suffered a contusion of the right cheek, a probable facial fracture and complained of a neck injury and bruises.

The others were George Roe, 47, Higginsville, driver of the car, with a laceration across the bridge of his nose; and his two daughters, Violet Roe, 14, who complained of a neck injury, pain in the left shoulder and bruises; and Rosella Roe, 17, with bruises on the left leg and right ankle. Miss McPherson was a friend of the two girls.

X-rays were being taken of the four as the Democrat-Capital went to press Saturday night. They were taken to Bothwell Hospital by Ewing ambulances and were treated by Dr. A. J. Campbell. Dr. Robert Stewart, radiologist, checked the X-rays.

The accident happened as the car missed a sharp curve off of the south end of the bridge and went skidding on its right side, with the bottom of it crashing into a jagged bluff. Roe reported they had been to Florence where they were visiting relatives, then went to Otterville and were returning to Florence at the time. He said, "The curve was a sharp one and I just couldn't make it."

Sheriff John T. Hull and Trooper H. M. Hall investigated the accident. The car was extensively damaged. It was taken to Otterville.

Sedalia Area Has Wettest Year Since Big Rainfall During 1951

Not since 1951, when the Sedalia area was drenched with 59.89 inches of rainfall, has the area enjoyed an above-average precipitation like the 42.41 inches which fell in 1958. The average, based on a 25-year survey, is 40.07 inches.

The heavy and frequent rainfall in June and July was credited with bringing on a late summer, and a few floods in the area, but by fair-time farmers were able to come up with some outstanding displays and production records.

All-in-all it was a good year, according to reports on a state level. The temperature dipped below the zero mark three times: Jan. 24 and 25; Feb. 16 minus 6, and

Feb. 17 minus 5. There were two snows in January. Eleven inches on Jan. 21 and two inches on Jan. 22, and this snow stayed on for some time. Two inches of snow fell on Feb. 1. March received eight inches of snow, three inches on March 9; one inch on March 11, and four inches on March 17. The hottest month was August, with the temperature rising to 96 on Aug. 29. The next hottest day was on June 10, when the mercury hit 94. Thermometers were pleased that the thermometer never hit the 100 mark.

It rained 14 days in July, which was the wettest month, recording 9.80 inches of rainfall. June, the second wettest month, recorded 8.21 inches of rainfall in 13 rainy days.

It only rained two days in October, the driest month, and 1.36 inches of rainfall was recorded. In January it rained seven times, but only 1.40 inches of rainfall was recorded.

It was a late summer and the first frost was recorded Oct. 29. The following chart lists the highs, lows and precipitation figures for the year. Only measurable amounts of precipitation are shown, with smaller amounts listed as traces. Snowfall is included as actual measurements after the snow melts.

Great Face-Lifting Changes Manhattan With 'New Look'

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The look of Manhattan is changing rapidly now under the impetus of the greatest face-lifting program in municipal history.

Landmarks are being torn down and buildings are rising as the brisk winds of the present blow the dust of the past in the pedestrian's eye.

At lunch hour, particularly in fair weather, the sites of the climbing new skyscrapers are surrounded by pale-featured office peasants. They are fascinated by the sight of their fellow men earning a living by the sweat of their brow and the use of their hands under the open sky.

Watching a couple of steelworkers nonchalantly stroll across a girder high overhead, one office peasant turned to a friend and said: "They are men. They are real men!"

In his voice was a mixture of admiration and wistful envy—a conscious expression of the realization that in the aristocracy of manhood the outdoor man has an edge over the indoor man.

The wife of the indoor man may feel that her husband is superior in some snobbish way to the rugged outdoor man, but the indoor man himself has no such illusion. He often feels his white collar is more of a badge of slavery than a symbol of success.

The indoor man, caught in the gray dismay of civilization, often finds it hard to see the importance of his work—whether he merely shuffles papers, sells neckties, arranges divorces, writes toothpaste ads, or answers the telephone for someone else above him in the office hierarchy.

He often has a trapped feeling. He has left nature too far behind. He can control his climate by turning a knob at home or at the office. Sometimes as he does this he can hear life whistling by in the wind outside his window. And he knows he is missing something.

The indoor man misses the joy of natural achievement that comes to the outdoor man—the farmer raising crops, the sailor taking a ship across the sea, the forester quelling a timber fire, the bricklayer raising the wall of a new home.

The greater creature comforts he enjoys do not compensate the indoor man for what he has lost. He neither sweats nor freezes at his job. He is usually just lukewarm—and he knows it.

The outdoor man realizes this fact, and as a result he always feels he has a clear and definite edge over the indoor man. The humblest hodgepodge cannot help looking down on a lawyer—that is, if he isn't in the lawyer's office.

The indoor man does the paper work of civilization and most of his problems are nervous ones. He is essential but often doesn't feel he is. The outdoor man handles the muscular work of civilization, and he can see the result of his labors in visible growth—a stand of waving wheat, a new road through a swamp, a bridge across a river, a new building in the skyline. He is essential, and he knows it.

Inside every indoor man, home-sick for nature, is an outdoor man yearning to be free. But only old age or enfeeblement will drive the outdoor man indoors, and he is never again as happy.

More People Read THE DEMOCRAT
and CAPITAL Than EVER Before

Today Over 88% MORE People Read YOUR Democrat-Capital Advertisement

Full Power Sedalia Democrat-Capital advertising "Means Business" because these newspapers cover the market — not just a divided portion or "share" of the market.

The chart at the top of this page shows how Democrat-Capital circulation has steadily climbed since 1934 to more than an 88% increase, and to 13,006 daily, 13,168 Sunday (December, 1958, Audit Bureau of Circulations net paid average, including 12 bulk, subject to audit.)

And this circulation is not "thrown-away"—it is audited, paid circulation—papers paid for by people who buy the Democrat or Capital to READ.

Incidentally, nearly one-half of today's Democrat-Capital readers live outside of Sedalia, but in Sedalia's drive-in area.

Every day the Democrat or Capital is delivered by carrier boy to readers in LaMonte, Knob Noster, Warrenton, Warrensburg, Hughesville, Houstonia, Sweet Springs, Emma, Concordia, Marshall, Slater, Nelson, Blackwater, Pilot Grove, Bunceton, California, Clarksburg, Tipton, Syracuse, Otterville, Smithton, Latham, Fortuna, Versailles, Stover, Cole Camp, Lincoln, Warsaw, Clinton, Calhoun, Green Ridge, and Windsor. Many other points, such as Ionia, Mora, Edwards, Fairfield, Fristoe, Climax Springs, Florence and Longwood . . . and all rural routes out of all these communities are covered by mail delivery.

Truly, the Democrat and Capital covers Sedalia's Central Missouri Area.

And the people of Sedalia and Central Missouri do read their Democrat and Capital, because they BUY it to READ.

It is the ONLY advertising medium covering the whole of Sedalia's primary trade area—printing the names and news of Central Missouri people as well as the state, national and international happenings morning, evening and Sunday.

That's why Sedalians and Central Missourians buy the Democrat and Capital to read . . . at their convenience.

While Sedalians and Central Missourians concentrate their reading on ONE publication —The Democrat and Capital—in contrast at least 17 radio stations vie with one another for the listeners' attention—Sedalia (2), Kansas City (4), Marshall, Clinton, Warrensburg, Boonville, Springfield (3), Columbia (2), and Jefferson City (2) . . . not to mention the St. Louis Stations and the many others available by the twist of the dial . . .

. . . and likewise, at least nine television stations vie with one another for Sedalia and Central Missouri viewing attention—Sedalia, Jefferson City, Columbia, St. Joseph, Kansas City (3) and Springfield (2).

Because more Central Missourians—your potential customers—read the Democrat or Capital regularly, successful merchants say: "Regular Democrat-Capital advertising is "Full Power" advertising and is the best investment in more sales and more profit."

Annual Live Stock Banquet Held Jan. 6

The annual Pettis County Farm Bureau Livestock banquet was held Tuesday night, Jan. 6, at the Broadway Presbyterian Church. The invocation was given by the Rev. D. Warren Neal, pastor, a member of the Farm Bureau.

The Mariners Group served a delicious dinner to a fine attendance of members, considering the bad weather conditions, and the distance most had to come.

W. C. Corlew, president of the Pettis County Farm Bureau, presented John Sneed, Jr., acting chairman of the livestock committee, who presided over the business session.

He recognized special guests at this time, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Stevenson, representing the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Fine of Farm, Home Administration, and James Perry, formerly with the Pettis County Extension Service.

Bill Coons, with the Kansas City Hog Market Producers' Assn., and Leo Burns, with the cattle buying department, both made informative talks on their line of work, raising and selling hogs and cattle for most profit to the farmer and with most satisfaction to consumers as well.

E. M. (Smokey) Woods, director of the Livestock and Wool Marketing Assn., was introduced and gave a general talk on farming and marketing crops, selling and buying livestock, to obtain the most profit, on the best grade of meats.

The principal speaker was Dr. Al Dyer, professor in charge of the animal husbandry department at the University of Missouri. He talked on livestock and other problems facing the farmer.

He also pointed out a number of his colleagues present with whom he had maintained pleasant associations through the years. Among them were Merle Vaughan, Pettis County extension agent and Lloyd Lewellen, associate county agent and others. Dyer served as county agent in Carroll County a few years ago.

Ring Found at Hotel, But Owner Is Unknown

A woman attending the Kinie and Fork Club meeting at Bothwell Hotel Friday night lost her diamond ring while there. Discovering it after she had left, she frantically called the hotel, but the management failed to find it. Later the night crew found it while cleaning up, but things are still in a dilemma—the woman didn't give her name when she called earlier.

The hotel is awaiting a call from the unidentified owner.

Television

Lamm, and it was a fairly tough town.

Well, there are still plenty of experiences getting to Sedalia, so the men from CBS found. Nobody shot at them, but Skip Webster and Jim Hardiman had their troubles, too. People don't do things quite as slowly as they did in those days, when it took weeks to get to Sedalia.

Hardiman said he was called Tuesday, told to come to Sedalia to make arrangements for "Rawhide" Day Saturday, to track down a 20 millimeter print of "Rawhide" to show, which they couldn't do, so they made one. In the meantime Hardiman got to Sedalia, set the wheels going here, Fleming, Eastwood and Skip Webster all arrived, of course, not without difficulty, but at 1:30 Saturday afternoon the film still wasn't in Sedalia.

Instead of its going by plane to Kansas City, it went to Chicago, and because of the airline strike, there was considerable confusion. After frantic telephone calls by Hardiman, he finally arranged for the print to be sent to Kansas City by plane, and then to Sedalia by private plane, where a police patrolman was waiting at the airport to grab it up, and take it to the hotel, where all were waiting.

Skip Webster then told his story. He received the call after 6 o'clock Tuesday evening to get the stars and go to Sedalia. He called his wife, asked her to pack his grip and take it to the station because the train left at 8 p.m. Fleming and Eastwood grabbed their things together, they took the western clothes but discovered they didn't have any guns. No guns could be found around CBS except the ones being used on the Red Skelton show, and they had to wait until that show was over. They put the guns down a minute after they found them and somebody walked off with them. Then they had to look for them. They called to hold the train a few minutes until they got there, and they finally got on with all their belongings. Webster got to St. Louis before he remembered that his wife knew he was leaving town but not where he was going, so he had to call her up and tell her he was in St. Louis and headed for Sedalia.

In Sedalia people were rushing around, too. George H. Scruton, president of the Pettis County Historical Society, who was to be presented the film after the showing, wrote the message for the scroll to be presented to Fleming and Eastwood making them honorary members of the Pettis County Historical Society. Postmaster Maurice Hogan sat up most of the night drawing and printing the beautiful hand-made scrolls. The presentation was made at the luncheon by Scruton.

There were plenty of laughs during the day's events. One of the biggest was when three teenage girls attending the luncheon, Rae Flatau, Gayle Thompson and Diane Plouffe, Smith-Cotton sophomores, went up to ask the stars for their autographs. Fleming and Eastwood obliged, and then the three girls, maybe because they were told by somebody, or maybe because he looked like a western celebrity in his bright plaid shirt, his yellow western tie with glitter, his cowboy trousers and jackets and his boots, asked for the autograph of a local man, James T. Denny. Very proudly he gave it, right along with Fleming and Eastwood. Then little Kathy Lewis asked for Denny's autograph, too.

After the showing of the film, which the Sedalians really think is going to be a wonderful western series, the stars were taken to several places where pictures were taken for national magazines.

Silverman presented a card for world peace from Sedalia to the CBS men and told them he didn't present a key, for they didn't need a key to Sedalia—they were always welcome. He also gave them a copy of the proclamation, making Saturday "Rawhide" Day in Sedalia. He expressed appreciation to Jack Faber, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, William C. Hopkins, president, Whiteman Air Force Base and all who contributed toward the success of the day.

A representative from the Jefferson City television station which carries the new television show, came to Sedalia to interview the stars.

A police car and a Ford car figured in a minor accident at Fourth and Lamine at 11:50 a.m. Saturday.

Involved was a 1938 Dodge sedan driven by Police Sgt. Perry Franklin, which was parked at Fourth and Lamine and headed west, and a 1936 Ford sedan driven by George Vest Streit, Smithton. Streit started to stop, and the icy street caused the car to slide easily against the police car.

No damage resulted to the Ford and only slight damage was done to the side of the police car.

A one-car accident occurred at 5:15 p.m. Saturday on a country road east of the girl scout camp. There were no injuries.

A 1933 Cadillac sedan driven east on the country road by Homer Crow, 1609 South Montauque, collected with a bridge, resulting in approximately $200 damage to the right front of the car.

Funeral Home Accepted Into Golden Rule

A Sedalia organization, the Ewing Funeral Home, was recently accepted into the fellowship of an international organization of funeral directors, known in the profession as the Order of the Golden Rule. This affiliation was made possible only by the written approval of many local persons in a position to speak with authority on the subject.

Funeral directors belonging to the Order are selected for their ability to uphold the ideals of this international organization. The Order has a membership which, literally, extends around the world, and has been in existence for more than a quarter of a century.

In the funeral directing profession, it is considered a genuine distinction to be accepted into the fellowship of the Order, since ordinarily but one funeral director in each community can belong.

The Order lays particular stress on the necessity of rendering a service to humanity in time of need that is modern and comprehensive, and at the same time so moderately priced that it is within the reach of all, even those in the most humble circumstances.

The member of the Order in each community identifies himself by means of a symbol, which consists of an armored knight with raised visor, who supports with his right hand a shield, bearing the motto of the Order: "Service measured not by gold but by the Golden Rule." In his left hand the knight grasps a drawn sword, as if to signify his readiness to defend the high principles inscribed upon the shield.

highway patrolman who investigated the accident, Crow momentarily glanced to the side of the road and the car swerved, hitting the bridge.

Slight damage resulted in a collision between two cars on Kentucky between Third and Fourth about 11:57 a.m. Saturday. No injuries occurred.

Involved was a 1930 Mercury sedan, driven west out of the alley by Dwight L. Pirtle, and a 1936 Chevrolet sedan driven south by Raymond H. Dillon, 1116 West 11th.

Announcing the Affiliation of EWING Funeral Home
SEVENTH AT OSAGE

This is an important announcement, because membership in the Order is open only to funeral directors of high professional standing; it is a distinction shared by carefully selected funeral directors throughout the world.

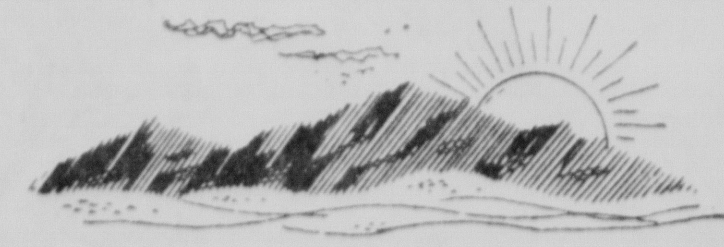

An application for membership cannot be passed upon by the Order itself; membership is granted only after the Order has made direct contact with those who are in the best possible position to know whether the applicant is worthy; families served, and the business and professional men of the community in which the applicant lives.

The Symbol which appears below is the identifying emblem of membership, and all users of this Symbol are pledged to give modern, comprehensive service, to advise wisely, and keep all charges moderate.

The Order is happy to present and recommend this firm to the people of this community and the surrounding territory, and takes pride in making this public announcement of the appointment.

S-C Tigers Lose to Mexico For Second Loss in 2 Nights

Bow to Jays Friday Night To Sink to Depths of CEMO

The undersized Smith-Cotton Tigers skidded to the depths of the Missouri Conference basketball race Saturday night, dropping a 69-53 decision to the sky-scraping Mexico Bulldogs on the S-C hardwoods. It was the second CEMO setback for the Bengals in as many nights; they lost to Jefferson City Friday night.

The Tigers have won only one of seven games this season. In league play they have a 1-4 record. Jefferson City leads the race with a 3-0 mark. Mexico and Rolla each have 1-0 records and Hickman of Columbia stands at 1-1.

Despite the dual losses, the Tigers played creditable ball in both efforts. Against Mexico the little Bengals seemed determined to play the role of giant killer during the first half. After one quarter of play the score was knotted at 9-all. Mexico, led by the scoring of 6-foot-5 Charles Williams and Bill Singleton, managed to take a 31-28 lead at intermission.

The Bulldogs clinched the contest in the third period by pouring in 18 points, while S-C's offensive went cold and mustered only five counters.

Smith-Cotton bucketed 43 percent of its first half shots, but cooled off to 33 per cent in the last two periods. Mexico managed 38 per cent accuracy during the opening half, but came back with a 50 per cent shooting performance during the last half.

Bob Vedder led the Tigers with 22 points on seven fielders and eight free throws. Nicky Nichols contributed 19 on four field goals and 11 free tosses. Larry Lieberman, Mexico's All-Conference 6-foot-3 forward, paced the Bulldogs with 19 points.

The Tigers don't play again until Friday night when they meet the Hickman Kewpies in the new Columbia high school field house.

Jefferson City's potent Jays took an easy 43-27 decision over the Tigers at the Capital City Friday night. The loss was S-C's third straight in conference play.

The Tigers battled the Jays on even terms on the back-boards for three quarters, despite a noticeable height handicap. However, the Jays proved far superior in shooting accuracy despite Smith-Cotton's ability to obtain choice shots against the winner's tight zone defense.

Smith-Cotton connected on 35 per cent of its efforts from the field in the first half and trailed at intermission by only five points, 23-17. The Jays sank 43 per cent of their first half attempts from the field.

Jefferson City turned the game into a rout in the second half, increasing its shooting accuracy to 45 per cent while Smith-Cotton cooled off to a miserable 12 per cent.

Bill Poynter played his best game of the season for the Tigers. Besides sharing high point honors with Bob Vedder — both had ten — the 4-2 postman was Sedalia's leading rebounder. Bob Caine, the Jays' high scoring forward, topped game honors with a 16 point performance.

Jefferson City turned back the Sedalia B team, 32-42. The Jays sailed into a comfortable 20-6 first quarter lead and went through the remainder of the game without a serious threat from the Tigers.

J. R. Walker tanked 16 points to spark the Bengals' scoring. Gary and Rinklin were the big guys for the Capital Citizens with 16 and 15 points, respectively.

Versailles Whips Stover, 69-45, For 12th Victory

The Versailles Tigers won their 12th game of the season in easy fashion Friday night, defeating the Stover Bulldogs, 69-45, in a Tri-County Conference game at Versailles. The Tigers, still in contention for the conference title, have lost only two—both against loop foes. They have won five in Tri-County play.

Stover was never in serious contention as the Tigers shot ahead, 14-7 in the opening period and added to their margin in each of the following quarters.

Nine Versailles players got into the scoring, but Cable was the big gun with 20. John Holsten and Ronnie Marriott tallied 12 apiece for the losers.

Versailles' next game will be against Rogers, Ark. in the opening round of the Tournament of Champions at Springfield at 7 p.m. Tuesday. If the Tigers get by Rogers they'll clash with the top seeded Joplin Eagles in the second round. Joplin drew a first round bye.

In the "B" game Friday Stover bowed to Versailles, 52-33. Piersall and Burkhardt netted 16 and 14 points respectively to lead the winners. Friday got 11 for Stover.

Stover's 14 15 for Stover. Scoring: Stover: B. C. Miles 10, Clayton Viesbrock 2, Bill Payne 9, John Holsten 12, Ronnie Marriott 12, Versailles: Nelson 8, Ward 9, Becker 10, Cable 20, Walker 4, Eckhoff 12, Houseworth 2, Hester 2, Bowline 2.

Mizzou Drops 69-62 Decision to Kansas

COLUMBIA, Mo., (P) — The Kansas Jayhawkers overpowered Missouri Saturday night with a second half surge for a victory that ran Missouri's losing streak to seven games.

Bad Weather Fails to Stop Duck Hunters

In spite of adverse weather during a major part of the season, waterfowl hunters at five areas operated by the Conservation Commission averaged more than a bird each during the 1958 season. There were 24,611 hunters at the five areas and they bagged 19,769 ducks. The areas are Duck Creek wildlife area at the corner of Bollinger, Wayne and Stoddard counties; Montrose wildlife area in Henry county; Trimble wildlife area on the Clay-Clinton county line; Fountain Grove wildlife area at the corner of Linn, Livingston and Chariton counties; and Swan Lake wildlife area in northwest Chariton county. At the last two areas, hunters dropped 6,623 geese — 6,177 at Swan Lake and 446 at Fountain Grove.

During most of December water at Fountain Grove and Swan Lake was frozen, hampering hunting. During shorter periods hunting was slowed or stopped at the other three areas because of ice conditions. Because a heavy early-season kill endangered the goose flock in the Swan Lake area, shooting hours and bag limit for geese had to be reduced.

At Duck Creek 11,701 geese were taken by 7,982 hunters—about three birds for each two hunters. At Fountain Grove, frozen over during December, 4,118 hunters took 5,534 ducks and 446 geese, an average of better than a bird per hunter. At Swan Lake 9,246 hunters bagged 6,177 geese and 402 ducks, an average of two birds for each three hunters. Hunters at Montrose had about the same average—1,175 noddards took 765 ducks. At Trimble roughly the same average carried as 2,090 hunters took 1,376 ducks.

On the grimmer side of the picture three of the areas reported more than 5,000 birds had been crippled—and lost. Nationwide the crippling loss is estimated at 25 percent—or one bird lost out of every four shot. Shooting at birds out of killing range is blamed as the principal cause of the high crippling rate.

Bear Distribution

Bears are widely distributed throughout Europe, Asia and North America, while one species inhabits the South American Andes and another the African Atlas. Not a single member of the bear family is to be found south of the Atlas Mountains.

The Democrat Wins Thriller Over Phillips

A thrilling finish in the game between the Sedalia Democrat and Phillips 66 featured play in the Optimist Boys Basketball League at Convention Hall Friday night.

Winnipeg by a one point margin was the Democrat team which held on desperately after taking the lead on a charity toss by Fletcher Gravitt with a minute and 30 seconds to play.

Neither team held more than a four point lead throughout the game which left spectators, players, and coaches limp after the down-to-the-wire finish. Phillips banged away at the basket in the final seconds but the ball just would not drop.

Fletcher Gravitt, diminutive guard for the Democrat, took scoring honors for the game with 16 points while Alan Miller rebounded his way for 10 points to lead Phillips.

In the opening game of the evening a taller Sedalia Capital defeated the Optimist C team by a 41-5 score. Bill Wiser scored 14 points for the Capital followed by Tommy Rash with 12 and Dale Ulmer with 8. Robert Hemple and Jimmy Glover had two apiece for the Capital.

The night's finale saw the Optimist A team easily out distance the Optimist B team 26-10. The smooth A team offense clicked almost without a flaw against the outmanned B team. Larry McCown led the scoring with 12 points while Ronnie Miller had 11 for the A team. Matthews had 4 points for the losing B team.

Windsor Suffers 54-20 Drubbing By Clinton

The Windsor Greyhounds Friday night were beaten by Clinton for the third time this season as they suffered a 54-20 drubbing on the Clinton court.

Clinton raced to a 16-7 first quarter lead and was never challenged. Windsor could muster only two points in the second quarter and three in the third.

Kent Jackson was high pointer for the Greyhounds with six, and 6-foot-5 center Gary Lipsitz led the Clinton attack with 26 points.

Windsor's B team also lost, 37-32. Jim Cline paced Windsor with eight points and Scott was high for Clinton with 15.

Windsor scoring: Jerry Smith 2, Gary Womble 5, Bill Merryfield 4, Kent Jackson 6, Larry Elliott 3, Clinton scoring: Jack A. Smith 3, Eberling 9, Welch 7, Lipsitz 26, Hamby 3.

Sports Scraps

By D. KELLY SCRUTON

MUCH talk about the state high school basketball tournaments in the past on whether to hold one instead of three separate tournaments was settled last winter, and by the proper procedure—election by all schools participating in basketball. But on their voting it was asked if one, two, or four classes should be held. It resulted in the continuation of three-class tournaments.

The results of the survey showed 61 schools preferred one class; 77 schools preferred two classes; 299 schools preferred three classes; and 14 schools wanted four classes. The board of controls then instructed the state secretary to proceed with the original three-class basis.

In 1959 Class S regional sites selected by the board of control are to be at Fairfax, Eagleville, Bucklin, Gorin, Clarence, St. George of Hermann, Malta Bend, Prairie Home, Sheldon, Carterville, Buffalo, Gowar, Warrensburg College High, Nixa, Centerville and Essex.

Class M regional tournaments will be at Albany, Northeast Missouri State Teachers College, Ft. Osage of Independence, Fayette, Bowling Green, Appleton City, Versailles, Owensville, Pacific, Flat River, Marshfield, Mt. Vernon, Willow Springs, Bloomfield, Kelley High of Benton, and Portageville.

Class L regional tournament play will be at Joplin, Springfield Parkview, Poplar Bluff, Crystal City, Rolla, Moberly, St. Joseph, Rockhurst of K. C., William Chrisman of Independence, Raytown, St. Charles, Mehlville, University City, Ferguson, Hadley Tech. of St. Louis, and St. Louis University High.

The first round Class S state tournament games will be played March 2 at Northwest Missouri State College, Blue Springs High School, New Bloomfield High School, Southeast Missouri State College, Northeast Missouri State Teachers College, and Southwest Missouri State College. Second round games will be played Wednesday, March 4, at Blue Springs High School, Southeast Missouri State College, Northeast Missouri State Teachers College, and Southwest Missouri State College. Semi-finals and finals will be played at the University of Missouri on Friday and Saturday, March 6 and 7.

The first round Class M state tournament games will be played Monday, March 2, at Northwest Missouri State College, Central Missouri State College, Southeast Missouri State College, Northeast Missouri State Teachers College, Union High School, and on Tuesday, March 3, at Southwest Missouri State College. Second round games will be played on Wednesday, March 4, at Blue Springs High School, Southeast Missouri State College, Vandalia High School, and Southwest Missouri State College. Semi-finals and finals will be played concurrently with the Class S semi-finals and finals at the University of Missouri on Friday and Saturday, March 6 and 7. The championship games in both classes will be played Saturday night, March 7.

The first round of play in Class L will be on March 9 at all sites except in the St. Louis area where local conditions made it necessary to play these games on March 10. First round games will be played at St. Joseph, Washington University in St. Louis, Fulton, Webster Groves, Raytown, Southwest Missouri State College, and Southeast Missouri State College. Quarter final games will begin on Thursday, March 12, at Washington University.

The new arrangement of first round games is expected to permit more students and parents to see a part of the state tournaments, and also it is pointed out attendance in first round games in all classes and in second round games in classes M and S should increase.

Likewise most of the participating schools will save in travel time. The plans followed this year are patterned after Illinois and Indiana which have proved successful.

CERTAINLY if any sport is crowding the sport pages this winter, it's basketball—with more and more teams becoming more active in getting their games in to print. Independent basketball is also coming into its place in the sports-world and two Central Missouri tournaments scheduled for the last of January and the first of February are drawing into the area some prominent teams.

The Sedalia-Lions Tournament scheduled for January 26 through the 31st is attracting some of the top teams. Tournament Chairman Kenneth Buchholz and W. C. "Wink" Ream are having a problem. Their problem is trying to let as many teams in as possible, but only a 16 team bracket and the type teams wanting to enter is causing them to scratch their heads.

Governor James T. Blair, Jr., has given permission for the Alcoa Farm team to come in and it is one team already admitted. Other teams will be announced this week.

Down in Warsaw, L. J. Parsons, tournament manager for the Warsaw Lions Club Independent Tournament, is also getting in some of the top teams, many which will be playing in Sedalia. That tournament, however, is attracting teams from as far as Springfield.

Parsons is getting his teams arranged but will take advantage of the Sedalia tourney to pick up some other teams.

But it might as well be called Basketball Months, this January and February, coming to a conclusion the middle of March.

Over $3 Million More Than Previous Year Harness Racing Purses Over $27 Million for '58 Season

Columbus, O., Jan. 10 (Special) —Purses offered at the nation's harness racing tracks in 1958 zoomed upward more than three million dollars above the previous year's figure, president Walter J. Michael told the U.S. Trotting Association directors assembled here today for the start of a three-day convocation.

For the past season, a total of $27,572,830.48 was paid out in purses, 13.7 per cent more than the $24,249,842.69 in 1957. Michael told the 43 directors representing USTA districts in this country and in the Maritime Provinces of Canada.

The president's report emphasized also that both attendance and betting totals at pari-mutuel tracks continued to show sharp upward trends with $712,872,993 wagered by the 12,769,494 in attendance. In 1957 wagering figures showed $614,920,402 by 11,807,547 harness racing fans. Wagering was up 15.9 per cent and attendance up 8.2 per cent.

The 12 states in which pari-mutuel harness tracks are located carved up $48,256,906.05 in revenue, more than 5 1/2 million more than the $42,694,237.39 taken in states' revenue in 1957.

The USTA directors also were informed that 15,906 horses started at least once in 1958, an all-time high, while new registrations of horses soared past the 5,000 mark for the first time with 5,485 receiving registration papers.

Eligibility certificates were issued to 6,653 trotters and 11,200 pacers, a record total of 17,853, while active memberships in the USTA hit a record-setting 13,481 total. A total of 454 tracks also had membership in the USTA.

Committee meetings and a meeting of the Grand Circuit organization occupied most of the directors' time today with the first general session for all 43 participants set for 10:30 a.m. Sunday.

A final session of the Board of Directors will be held Monday morning.

Two directors are participating in the sessions at the Des Moines.

Cole Camp Sails Past Lincoln In PBCAA Tilt

Playing their best game of the season, the Cole Camp Blue Birds displayed some of last year's scoring power by trouncing the unpredictable Lincoln Cardinals, 77-49, in a PBCAA Conference tussle at Cole Camp Friday night.

The Schnackenberg brothers — David and Raymond — combined for 40 points to lead the Cole Camp assault. David was high scorer for the game with 21. Larry Kreissler tanked 13 to lead Lincoln.

Forging into an 11-2 advantage in the first quarter, the Cole Camp attack continued to pick up momentum in each period. The Blue Birds were extra deadly from the field hitting 50 per cent of their first quarter shots and 46 per cent in the second half. From the charity line Coach Bill Crowder's crew hooped 62 per cent.

For the season Cole Camp has notched 11 triumphs against seven setbacks. In PBCAA play they have a 3-2 record.

In the girls' volleyball game the powerful Cole Camp team trimmed Lincoln, 39-5. Carolyn Grother was the serving ace for the winners with 13 points.

Bowmen Will Hold Rabbit Hunt Jan. 17-18

Members of the Missouri Bow Hunters Association will hold their annual rabbit hunt and shoot of Sedalia January 17 and 18, according to Mrs. Pauline A. Reeg, St. Louis, secretary of the organization.

Archers are to assemble at 8:15 each morning of the hunt on Highway 65, a block south of Highway 50 in Sedalia. The hunting area is about a 30-minute drive southwest of Sedalia. Lunch will be served the hunters at a nearby school by local residents.

Last year, about 75 bowmen from St. Louis, Kansas City, Springfield, Moberly, Sedalia, Cape Girardeau and Jefferson City bagged 270 rabbits during the two-day hunt in the same general area.

The Grem-lins made a game last quarter effort, outscoring the Hughesville second stringers, 20-10. John Martin and Paul Bennett, tallest performers for the Sedalians, fouled out in the fourth period.

In conference play Coach Siebert McDaniel's crew sets the pace with a 6-0 record. At other conference teams have been beaten.

The contest was up for grabs until the final gun. Neither team was ever able to take a lead of more than a few points—and most of the way it was a tie-game. Grain Valley finally broke ahead by three in the third quarter, but the Orioles rallied in the final quarter and kept the outcome in doubt until the end.

MIGHTY ATLAS

Ellis, Atlas Meet Again Tuesday Night

It was just three months ago that Cowboy Bob Ellis had his first shot at Mighty Atlas in the Sedalia wrestling ring. It might just as well have been last week. The two have never been able to see eye to eye on anything since Ellis handled the rugged strongman with ease on two occasions here.

They come to grips on next Tuesday's mat program at the Armory.

Last October, Ellis was a comparative newcomer in this area. The towering Texan fast learned he needn't yield ground to anyone and he didn't. His fast rise moved him all the way to the top of the area heap and clinched the Central States championship. Ellis still wears the crown.

With Atlas, the old enemy, set to give Ellis a real drubbing anytime he can, it's certain they'll have at it in the six-man team go Tuesday. Ellis will have some help to match Atlas' henchmen. With Bob will be Thor Hagen and newcomer John Foti. The trio will seek to turn back a more experienced team in Atlas, Bob Orton and Lee Henning.

The main go could develop into a battle of Ellis' rodeo headlock and Atlas' special version of the nelson. Either hold is capable of halting an opponent, provided the grip is applied with enough strength to make it vise-tight. Both Ellis and Atlas have the power to back up all their offensive measures with authority.

Other clashes Tuesday pair Lee Henning and Hagen, Foti and Orton and Atlas and Ellis.

The reason for pairing Ellis and Atlas in the opener was to give the defeated man an opportunity for another chance at his rival in the team clash. A draw is unlikely since both men are so determined to do each other in.

Sweet Springs Stops Wellington, 43 to 35

Coach Ken Dyer's Sweet Springs Greyhounds continued to make a stout bid for the West-Central Conference championship Friday night by whipping Wellington, 43-35. It was the second win against no losses in loop play for the Hounds. For the season they have compiled a 7-5 record.

Sweet Springs grabbed command, 10-7, in the first period, but Wellington stayed in contention and trailed by only two points at halftime, 23-21. The Greyhounds iced the contest by moving into an eight point lead in the third quarter.

Bob Vickrey led the winners' attack with 15 points. Soendkar pitched in 12 for Wellington.

In the "B" team contest Sweet Springs notched a 38-29 triumph as Richard Hollrah poured in 14 points for the victors. Sweet Springs took an 11-7 opening period lead and was never headed.

Western Auto Slips Past Windsor, 83-82

The Western Auto Wizards Friday night edged the Windsor Independents, Hills boys and all, 83-82, on the Windsor court as Charlie Newman paved the way with a 32-point performance.

Down 66-59 at the three-quarter mark after a nip-and-tuck affair through the first half, Newman and Ray Homan sparked the Wizards' offensive in the final period to overhaul the Windsorites. Newman rammed in 30 of his 32 points in the second half and Homan, who had 15 for the game, netted 11 in the telltale fourth period. Marvin Hills, who on other nights plays for the Deepwater Independents, led Windsor with 26 points and brother Freddie contributed 24.

Knob Noster Rallies To Whip Leeton

The Knob Noster Panthers scored eight points in the last thirty seconds Friday night, mainly due to the clutch shooting of Larry Wharton, to edge Leeton, 66-61, in a basketball thriller on the Knob Noster court. The victory was the seventh for the Panthers against six setbacks this season.

Trailing 38-28 at halftime, the Panthers rallied in the third quarter to pull within one point, 48-47. But Leeton held off the host squad until Larry Wharton hit a field goal with five minutes to go to throw the game into a 51-51 deadlock. Leeton pulled ahead again by five points, but again Wharton came through with another field goal to tie it at 61-61 with two and a half minutes to go.

The teams stalled the ball until Wharton and Larry Brant took over with 30 seconds to go. Brant hit three points and Wharton potted four to pull out the victory.

Wharton led the Panthers' offensive with 29 points—25 of them in the second half, and Howard McKeehan bucketed 16, Wharton's 25 second half points came on seven field goals in the fourth quarter and five field goals and a charity toss in the third. However, Leeton's Underwood equalized Wharton's feat, ramming in 31 points—and 25 of those came in the first half. But Wharton and Larry Draper turned him off after the intermission.

Knob Noster's "B" squad won its tenth of the season against a single loss by whipping Leeton's youngsters, 42-31. Terry Taraba paced the visitors with nine points and Foster and Howard led Leeton with nine each.

Knob Noster's next game is slated for Wednesday night at 7 o'clock when the Panthers meet College High of Warrensburg in the lid lifter of the annual Knob Noster Invitational Tournament. In the second game top-seeded at 8:15. These are the only two games that will be played Wednesday night.

Ron Dick Sparks Bunceton Over Nelson, 69-46

The Bunceton Dragons racked up their 11th victory in 12 games by blasting the Nelson Eagles, 69-46, on the Nelson hardwoods Friday night.

Sharp-shooting Ron Dick netted 29 points to spark the winners' attack. Dick, one of the area's finest players, saw action only three quarters. Ross Hunt and Marvin Witcher were the offensive standouts for Nelson with 13 and 12 points.

Bunceton sailed into a 12-point first quarter lead and increased the advantage to 21 points by intermission, 39-18. Nelson's efforts improved in the second half, but the Eagles lacked the rebounding power to make it a close match.

In the girls' volleyball game, Judy Gilmore and Gay Baughman scored 23 and 16 points respectively with their effective jump shots to pace Bunceton's 47-30 victory. Judy Doty accounted for 21 of Nelson's points.

The Bunceton boys team suffered a severe setback this week as they lost the services of Gerald Dicus, 5-foot-8 sophomore starter. Dicus underwent a spinal operation. Coach Rich Maloney said he might be able to return to action in time for regional tournament play.

California's Tourney Will Open Monday

The 29th annual California Invitational Basketball Tournament will get underway Monday night with 15 teams in the running for the championship.

Coach Danny Williams' California Pintos, the defending champions, are again favored to haul in the title of their own tourney. The top-seeded Californians have compiled a 12-1 record for the season and they set the pace in the rugged Tri-County Conference with a 6-0 mark. In last year's meet the Pintos won the crown by topping the Versailles Tigers, 72-61, in the final game.

The Lincoln University High School Kittens of Jefferson City are seeded second' New Bloomfield third, and Linn fourth. Other teams in the meet are Smithton, Fayette, Tuscumbia, Chamois, Russellville, Tipton, Osage, Iberia, Jamestown, Eugene, and Mokane.

Smithton and Fayette vie at 6:30 p.m. Monday in the meet's lid lifter. Other games on the opening card pit California against Tuscumbia and Chamois against Russellville. Tuesday night a four game slate matches Linn against Tipton at 5:30; Osage and Iberia at 7; Lincoln and Jamestown at 8:30; and Eugene and Mokane at 10. New Bloomfield received a first round bye.

The California Pintos raced to their 12th victory of the season and six straight in conference play Friday night, edging by Camden-ton, 68-64.

The Pintos had a 16 point lead early in the fourth quarter and barely survived Camden-ton's spirited fourth quarter drive against the California reserves. The officials called 55 fouls in the rough-tumble battle. California was guilty of 28 infractions and Camden-ton 27. Eddy Hert and Donnie Flippin pitched in 17 points apiece to lead the Pintos. Legon was high for the game, hitting 21 for Camden-ton.

Long Range Planning

Industrial Division Active Throughout the Entire Year

One of the divisions of the Chamber of Commerce which is always active is the industrial development division of which Arthur J. Morgan was director during 1958 and is again director this year. His chairman in 1958 was Claude L. Boul.

Industrial development today is not a "drop in" business but is one of long range planning and development accomplished among extremely experienced and technically qualified competition, said Morgan, and added that our efforts should be continually directed to Sedalia's gaining its proper share of future expanding manufacturing plants.

The project of establishing a new industry, Precision Manufacturing Company, Inc., was started in 1957 and completed in mid-1958. Located on a tract at the north end of Sedalia's new Industrial Park, the company has begun operations in a building constructed by the Sedalia Improvement Association, Inc. utilizing local capital. Considerable assistance by members of this committee and the Chamber staff was given in the construction of the facility and acquisition of initial government-related contracts.

In addition to this project, others have been worked on diligently by the committee and concrete results are hoped for in the not too distant future. This division with the work of the Chamber staff,

2nd AF Has Lengthy Record Of Achievements

The Second Air Force, which Whiteman became a part of on Jan. 1, has a lengthy record of achievements which may be known to few Whitemanites.

Organized in 1941, its mission was training and organization of bombardment wings during WWII. Deactivated after the war, Second Air Force was returned to active status by SAC on Nov. 1, 1949.

With headquarters at Barksdale AFB, La., the Second AF was the first numbered Air Force to fly B-47's overseas on rotational deployment, and the command pioneered KC-97, B-47 air refueling techniques.

During the past five years the command won SAC's flying safety award and base of the year competition on four separate occasions. It is a three-time winner of the McKay trophy, and has taken home the Fairchild trophy three consecutive years.

During SAC's tenth annual bombardment competition last fall, Second Air Force won most of the awards. Its motto is indicative of its capabilities: "Second to None."

'Ripcord' Russell Began 'Hitting Silk' at Age 16

These days most youngsters of 16 are in high school and looking forward to graduation, but Capt. Willis I. Russell, chief of Whiteman's individual training division, can remember that he started his career as a parachute jumper at that age.

Capt. Russell now has his feet planted firmly on the ground, but his past activities include 149 parachute jumps made under all kinds of conditions.

The captain, who goes by the nickname of "Ripcord," started his career in 1936 making parachute jumps at air shows, county fairs, and sponsored events. In those days he made his jumps from all types of aircraft including the old tri-motored Stinsons, Curtiss-Wright Standards, Piper Cubs, gliders, float planes and ski planes.

Capt. Russell said he had several close calls when his chute didn't open and he had to tear it open with his hands.

Actually the closest call of his career came not as the result of a parachute malfunction, but in his choice of a landing field near railroad tracks. This brush with death came in 1938, when Capt. Russell made his jump at the Hartland, Vt., county fair.

He misjudged the distance and landed on the railroad tracks just as a train was coming by. So close to the locomotive did he land that the engineer later reported he had run over someone at that location.

In July 1941, the captain entered the Royal Canadian Air Force as a parachute instructor. He left the RCAF in 1943 and entered the USAAF as an aviation cadet.

In 1944, Capt. Russell received his pilot's wings and was assigned to fighter-attack bombers. After the war he was assigned as an education officer and served in that capacity until he came to Whiteman in June 1957. He is no longer on flying status, nor has he hit the silk in recent years.

A native of Ascutney, Vt., Capt. Russell is married to the former Jeanette Bullis of Eau Claire, Wis., and they currently reside in Warrensburg.

Double Ring Ceremony Unites Miss Clo Greer, Monte Cass

At half after seven in the evening, Saturday, Dec. 27, Miss Clo Greer was united in marriage with Monte Dae Cass, at the Broadway Presbyterian Church with the Rev. Warren Neal reading the double ring ceremony before an altar adorned with red poinsettias, greenery and candelabra holding white burning tapers.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Greer, 163 Autumn, and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. James Cass, Terre Haute, Ind.

Miss Janet Lou Roberts, 1319 South Barrett, sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer" preceding the ceremony, accompanied by Mrs. Williams, organist, who played "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," "Clair de Lune" and the traditional wedding marches.

Candlelighters were Miss Judy Sewell and Miss Patti Sewell, both of 2400 West Third. They were attired in gowns of red taffeta, fashioned with scalloped neckline and balloon skirt accented with bustle bow in the back. Red feather clips adorned their hair and each wore a wrist corsage of white carnations.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a floor-length wedding gown of white taffeta, fashioned with fitted bodice, accented with lace scalloped neckline and long tapering sleeves of lace. The bodice buttoned down the back with tiny buttons and was accented at the waistline in the back with a large bustle bow of lace. Inserted panels of lace highlighted the voluminous skirt which formed a sweeping train. Her headpiece was a small matching crown which held her elbow-length veil of illusion. She carried a spray of small white rosebuds centered with a white orchid and draped with streamers.

Mrs. Larry D. Gloth, Brooklyn, N. Y., was the matron of honor, with Miss Ethel Kay Greer, Kansas City, as maid of honor and Mrs. Bill McCrary, Kansas City, Mo., and Miss Lucille Kirby, 409 North Jackson, as bridesmaids. Their gowns were of green taffeta, styled identically to those worn by the candlelighters, and in their hair were green clips. They carried white fur muffs ornamented with red poinsettias.

Serving as best man was Terry Miles Cass, Terre Haute, Ind., brother of the groom, with Jerry Crews, Denver, Colo., and Kenneth Buhlig, Warrensburg, as groomsmen. Ushers were Bill Atkins, Independence, and John Morgan, Deepwater.

Flower girl was Miss Debbie Montgomery, 163 South Summer, dressed in a pinafore of white organdy over red taffeta with a corsage of red rosebuds. Ring-bearer was Mike Farley, son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Farley, 167 Autumn.

For the wedding the mother of the bride chose a powder blue dress of lace and taffeta and the groom's mother wore a black crepe dress with white jewel trimming. Each wore a corsage of red roses.

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held at the church social hall with approximately 100 guests in attendance. Serving the guests were Miss Pat Menefee, 623 West Fourth, Mrs. Walt Loveland, 520 South Barrett, Mrs. Janet Roberts, 1319 South Barrett, Mrs. Fred Doty, 2507 West 11th, and presiding at the guest book was Mrs. Bill Atkins, Independence.

The couple left for a short wedding trip to the Lake of the Ozarks and is now residing at 2507 South Seventh, Terre Haute, Ind. For traveling the bride wore a brown tweed suit with black accessories and a white orchid.

The bride is a graduate of Smith-Cotton High School in 1935, attended Central Missouri State College, Warrensburg, and will resume her studies at Indiana State College, Terre Haute.

The groom is a graduate of Central Missouri State College and is presently a coach and teacher at Honey Creek High School, Terre Haute.

In Impressive Service

Pettis OES Officers Installed At Temple

In an impressive service, the 1949 officers of Pettis Chapter, No. 279, Order of the Eastern Star, were installed at 8 o'clock on Saturday evening, Dec. 27, at the Masonic Temple.

The year's colors of pink, white and silver along with the emblem—the crown and scepter, the symbol—the lily, and the flower—the pink rose, were effective used to create a beautiful and appropriate setting.

Spotlighted against a white backdrop, a large, artistically designed, silver crown and scepter, with lighted, twinkling stars of star-point hues for jewels, centered the East. At either side of the steps leading to the white covered dais, was a garden wall with lilies and overhanging roses and arrangements of roses and lilies on the wall posts. A single stalk of lilies tied with appropriate colored ribbon was placed at each Star Point station.

Mrs. Merle Matthews of Knob Noster presented a musical prelude and accompanied Miss Shirley Kirkpatrick, who served as soloist for the Bible and flag ceremonies.

Mrs. Elmer Maune approached the altar bearing the Worthy Grand Matron's Bible as "Thy Word Have I Hid In My Heart" was sung and ten brothers followed a Star around the altar, after which Mrs. Maune gave the tribute to the Bible.

Don Hofheins, escorted by his brothers, Waymon and David, entered with the flag of the United States to the singing of "Three Cheers for the Red, White and Blue". W. Z. Heady gave the tribute to the flag.

N. B. Patton bore the Eastern Star flag to the East as "Star of the East" was sung. This tribute was given by Mrs. Paul Baum. As the flags were brought in 15 sisters in white dresses and colored capes entered and took position with the brothers around the altar to complete a colorful Star.

Mrs. J. H. Gwinn and George Chamberlin, retiring Worthy Matron and Worthy Patron, extended a cordial welcome to members and visitors and Mrs. Gwinn introduced the distinguished members as follows: Mrs. Lois Fenton, Lancaster, Worthy Grand Matron of the Grand Chapter of Missouri O.E.S., who was honored by the singing of "If I Could Tell You" by Miss Kirkpatrick; Mrs. Frank Coffman, Sedalia, Past Grand Matron and John Owen, Warsaw, Past Grand Patron; Mrs. Anna Thompson, Lee's Summit, Grand Conductress; Mrs. Elizabeth Haggard, Sweet Springs, Grand Electa; and Mrs. Elmer Maune, Sedalia, District Deputy Grand Matron of the 36th District.

Installing officers presented by Mrs. Gwinn were: Mrs. Fenton, W.G.M., Leonard Hall, Installing Grand Patron; Mrs. Thompson, Installing Grand Marshal; Mrs. Coffman, Installing Grand Marshal; Mrs. Matthews, Installing Grand Organist and Miss Ruth Burford, Floral Marshal.

Officers installed were: Mrs. W. Z. Heady, Worthy Matron; Charlie Hofheins, Worthy Patron; Mrs. F. T. Rucker, Associate Matron; George Ray, Associate Patron; Mrs. John Staubli, Secretary; Mrs. Don McQueen, Treasurer; Mrs. Handy Handley, Conductress; Mrs. Leonard Hall, Associate Conductress; Mrs. H. H. Hagen, Chaplain;

Mrs. John Staubli, Secretary; Mrs. Leonard Hall, Associate Conductress; and Miss Ruth Burford, Floral Marshal. Back row, left to right: Lloyd Kirkpatrick, Sentinel; Mrs. Ernest Barker, Esther; Mrs. Clarence Harrell, Martha; Miss Barbara Conn, Marshal; Mrs. W. E. Gard, Ruth; Mrs. Merle Matthews, Installing Grand Organist; Mrs. Dale Sands, Adah; Mrs. H. H. Hagen, Chaplain; Mrs. Elsie Burgenger, Warder; and Leonard Hall, Installing Grand Patron.

Several Parties Given Honoring Bride-to-Be

Additional parties honoring Miss Charlotte Salveter, who was married Dec. 29 to Lt. (j.g.) Frank F. Colburn, were given by Mr. and Mrs. George Trader, entertaining with a dinner at their home.

On Dec. 14 Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Thompson gave a dinner party at the Country Club.

On Dec. 27 Mrs. Henry Salveter and Mrs. Colburn honored Mrs. George W. Colburn, mother of Lt. Colburn, with a small tea at their home to meet close friends of the bride and her family.

Hofheins, his son, Don, sang appropriate words to "A Good Man Is Hard to Find" and Mrs. Hofheins presented him a boutonniere.

Miss Ruth Burford, floral marshal, presented pink roses to the newly installed Star Points using a crown and removing gems symbolic of the virtues of life and of the corresponding color of each station.

The officers honored the Worthy Matron and Worthy Patron in a clever ceremony during which Mrs. J. B. Lyon and Homer Gwinn placed silver crowns upon each and the officers pledged their support and closed with Miss Kirkpatrick singing, "We'll Walk Beside You".

Mrs. Heady and Mr. Hofheins each spoke, expressing their appreciation to all who assisted in the installation and pledging their best. They also introduced the members of their families.

Past officers jewels were presented to Mrs. Gwinn and Mr. Chamberlin by Mrs. Chamberlin and Homer Gwinn.

The distinguished guests each spoke briefly; Mrs. Fenton presented Mrs. Heady with a miniature crown and scepter Worthy Matron's pin and Mr. Hall on behalf of the Worthy Grand Patron presented Mr. Hofheins with the Worthy Patron's pin. The benediction was given by Rev. Alley.

Clinton Lady Will Speak At Sorosis

Mrs. Ira F. East Sr., Clinton, who will be the guest speaker at Memorial Club House, visited Grandma Moses while on a recent vacation trip with her husband to the Eastern and New England States. The subject of her talk will be: "Grandma Moses and I."

Mrs. East manages a hatchery in Clinton, is an ardent reader and loves to share her joy in art and the state. She is a member of Epsilon Sigma Omicron, national honorary sorority, designed for club women reading with a purpose.

State chairman of libraries of Clubs, Mrs. East is also president of the Clinton Garden Club, but her biggest job, she says, is home-making.

Mrs. Joseph Maunders, art and drama chairman, will introduce the speaker.

Vows Solemnized At Boonville

On Saturday, Dec. 27 at five o'clock in the evening, Mrs. Margaret Shipman, exchanged wedding vows with Leslie Chamberlin, Pilot Grove, at the Baptist Church, Boonville, with the Rev. Glenn A. Irons performing the ceremony before an altar decorated with white mums and candelabra holding burning tapers.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Beck, Lebanon and the groom is the son of Mrs. Homer Chamberlin, Boonville.

Preceding the ceremony, Robert Beck, brother of the bride, sang "Always" and "Whither Thou Goest" accompanied by Miss Nancy Korson.

Lighting the tapers were Miss Susan Hickam and Miss Diane Esser, nieces of the bridegroom.

The bride chose for the wedding an afternoon dress of blue lace and carried a white orchid atop a white Bible.

Mrs. Harold Vernon and Oscar Meisenheimer, Pilot Grove, were the attendants.

A reception was held following the ceremony. The serving table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake, encircled with huckleberry and topped with three miniature white bells. On either side were candle holders holding burning tapers.

Auto Style Has Support

Conversational topics during recent holiday social and family gatherings ran the gamut from "a to izard," and from the sublime to the ridiculous or vice versa.

One discussion dealt with acceptability of the stylist trend of automobiles and whether they will stay long and low and covered with chrome. Like an argument this subject also has two sides—for and against. Some men say they can't get a longer car in their garage, that they are more difficult to park, etc. It is their opinion the public is against the present stylist trend and wonder why the manufacturer persists in going against it.

But is the public against this trend? According to Virgil M. Exner, Chrysler's styling director, quoted in the January issue of Popular Mechanics Magazine, the public has indicated a preference for larger cars through the years; as for chrome, he states that stylists don't want a lot of it, but the public has demanded it, and that while stylists initiated the demand for lower cars in order to get better proportions, in most cases engineers agree that low cars have more stability.

And it can be said the more stability idea is catching on from the remarks of Sedalia new car owners.

Ford's styling chief, George W. Walker, also quoted in the magazine says: "We say somebody gets in and out of a car about four times a day. Why should he forsake good silhouette just because he knocks his hat off a few times a day? If we were designing a milk wagon we would make it high enough so that a man could jump in and out without knocking his hat off."

These stylists say that sales indicate a majority of Americans are not content with cars that are nothing but a means of transportation.

A car "must be as exciting as possible," Exner states. "It should create a desire for ownership and pride of ownership. A person is looking for something with a feeling of motion that inspires him with its grace and excitement."

That sounds like getting up in the clouds a bit, but Ford stylist Robert H. Maguire joins in with the remark: "It's easy to say cars are two big, too low, or have too many fins. But take all the fins off and you end up with a piece of soap with wheels on it. Those fins finish off the metal, they give the full length to the car."

So there you have it, some of the prime arguments for the modern stylist trend in automobiles, a discussion in Popular Mechanics by those men who sense the public demand. Hence, if you're going to buy a 1959 model you have assurance of the experts you'll be keeping up with the Jones'.

Nothing seemed to be settled about this subject at the holiday party discussions except that several men said they were going to buy new cars, style or no style.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

GOP Elephant Gets Stimulating Shot

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Political observers, accustomed to keeping score on the ebb and flow of American politics, give the edge in the past 10 days to the Republicans.

In November, after the Democrats elected the largest number of senators in two decades, and rolled up a big new margin in the House, some observers were predicting that the Republican elephant was just about down and out. Now they've decided there's life in the old gal yet.

What's perked up opinion of Republicans is largely the fact that they have resorted to the Democratic processes. In contrast, the Democrats deserted the Democratic processes in passing on the gag rule of Congressman Smith's rules committee. They let one man, Speaker Sam Rayburn, decide the issue. There was no Democratic debate in caucus. Everything was decided in advance, even to the seating of contested Congressman Dale Alford of Arkansas.

Meanwhile, the Republicans battled it out, by the Democratic process, for their new leader. Actually the new leader, Charlie Halleck, will be no different in policy from good old Joe Martin. But the fact that the Republicans staged a battle and changed leaders gave the GOP a healthier look.

Simultaneously, Republican senators also staged a healthy battle between old guard Dirksen and liberal Cooper for the Senate GOP leadership. The old guard won, but the fact that they battled it out gave the public an impression of vigor.

Democratic senators are showing plenty of Democratic fight over the filibuster. But, as Sen. Clinton Anderson warned inside a closed-door Democratic meeting this week, Vice President Nixon stands to get the credit regarding civil rights and the ending of filibustering. Lyndon Johnson's hand is smooth and efficient, but most of the time it's a hand of iron.

So, despite the overwhelming Democratic majorities in both Houses of Congress, it looks as if the public would benefit from that principle which has kept the U.S.A. on an even keel

Think It Through

By E. F. HUTTON

LO, THE POOR INDIAN!—It is sad to note that Uncle pushes American Indians off their reservations whenever he chooses, despite his solemn promise not to do so.

In 1794, President Washington signed a treaty with the Seneca Indians establishing a reservation in Western New York. The treaty said: "The United States agrees that it will never claim the same and the Seneca Indians will never be disturbed in the free use and enjoyment of the same."

But to protect the white man's Pittsburgh from temporary floods, a U.S. Court has ruled that a dam can be built which will permanently flood 2300 acres of the best land in the reservation.

No doubt the ruling is "legal," but is it moral? We are supposed to be against "Colonialism" by Great Britain, Holland, France, etc., in Asia and Africa, but home-grown Colonialism is approved.

This is mighty poor advertising of our Government all over the world. A year ago, the President sent the Army to Little Rock, largely to demonstrate to the dark-skinned peoples of the world his determination to uphold a Supreme Court ruling, said to be "the law of the land."

But a treaty, under the Constitution, is part of "the supreme law of the land." "Eminent domain"—the power of Government to take private property is a necessary power.

But couldn't engineers protect Pittsburgh in some other way?

Neighbor, the honor of the United States is worth more than a dam!

Sweeping Social Security Changes Coming Up Soon

By FAYE HENLE

Reminder to all who carry a pay check home after January 1: Your pay will be fractionally smaller.

You may have forgotten, but as Congress closed last summer, a boost in the Social Security tax was voted. This means that beginning January 1, the tax climbs to 2½ per cent of the first $4,800 earned instead of stopping at the former $4,200 taxed at 2½ per Multiply what this increase takes out of your pay check by the number of employees in the organization for which you work and you realize that it is costing your employer substantially more, too, since he matches by contribution the amount deducted from your pay.

Higher Social Security deductions now mean that your old age benefits will increase. When you reach retirement, if you are single you will receive a maximum of $116 a month. Married couples will get up to $174 a month while a widow or widower with two dependent children will receive as much as $232 monthly.

All of this is part of the government's program to better care for the older segments of the population, a growing age group.

Persons over 65, according to the Bureau of the Census, are increasing at a rate of about 500,000 annually.

Year Around Subject

When the temperature hits zero
Or perhaps a bit below,
When the house is far too chilly
And your car doesn't want to go,
Then you try to call a taxi
And you wait and wait and wait
'Til you get yourself all riled up
Into an awful state;
You wonder if you'll make it
Down to your work or not
And it seems your disposition
Is all that's really hot.
Or, perhaps, your car gets started
And it slips and slides about
Or you get stuck in a snowdrift
Then struggle to get out;
When the gas seems mighty meager
Or the stoker just won't stoke,
It's the time when old winter
Proves it isn't any joke;

When the wind outside bites you
'Til your face and hands feel raw,
When the water pipes get frozen
And they just refuse to thaw,
When your nose looks like a stop light
And your flesh is bluish green
That's when your blood turns yellow
Like the light that's in between;
Ah, it's time to dream of summer
With its carefree, happy hours,
You can almost feel warm breezes
And smell the garden flowers;
Summer — time for gay vacations
Sure — you must have been insane
To get all that heat for nothing
And still have nerve to complain;
Just look what it is costing
To heat the old house now

And when the summer comes again
You won't beef, so you vow;
And to think you have no trouble
With the water pipes and such
And, of course, you wear a few clothes
But you don't wear very much;
Still, when the mercury starts to climb
And you begin to sweat,
You'll be wishing for old winter
With its coat of snow — I'll bet;
But then there are those seasons
That are sandwiched in between
That vivid, gorgeous autumn
And the springtime turning green,
Ah, there's not a thing about them
That could cause one to complain
Except in the springtime
There's a little too much rain,
Or the cold days that keep coming
And again you kinda fume
When the snowfalls are a-comin' out
Or the old blackberries bloom;
And autumn gets so chilly
And it seems it's awful fun
If we could only have a shower
From out that cloudless sky;
Ah, any season we don't have
Looks like a lovely bubble.
But it seems to me that winter
Can give us the most trouble;
When the temperature hits zero
Or perhaps a bit below
When the streets get mighty slippery
And we have to shovel snow;
Then it's time to dream of summer
Of a beautiful warm day
That could melt your winter troubles
And the ice and snow away.

A Frightful Gamble?

Less New Money for Air Force in Austerity Budget

By JOSEPH A. DEAR

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower's austerity budget, which still is shrouded by a mantle of official secrecy, provides a mere $18.7 billion of new money for the Air Force.

The fact that this is less than was budgeted for the Force last year tells the whole grim story. The Administration has decided that United States can't afford the price of maintaining the balance of terror absolutely in its favor. This is the equivalent of saying the nation can't pay the premium on survival insurance.

The new budget earmarks approximately the same proportionate number of dollars for missiles as the budget of last year. This will permit the purchase of more missiles this year than last, because some of the missiles which were experimental and therefore costly last year now have been proven.

The new budget will permit the purchase of 40 B-58's. The Strategic Air Command is keen on the B-58, and would have preferred to buy more than 40.

The new budget will permit the purchase of less than 100 B-52's. The justification for ploughing so much money into production of a plane that can't undertake a round-trip mission to Russia without refueling is the promise held forth by ballistic missiles that can be launched from planes. But this missile has not yet been proven.

The new budget will force the Air Force to cut-back fighter and interceptor wings. This cut-back is not compensated for by increased expenditures on defensive missile systems, meaning that American cities will be more vulnerable to Soviet attack than ever before.

In short, the austerity budget has forced the Air Force to curtail strengthening of the continental defense system. The Air Force has been forced to proceed on the theory that the best defense is the capability of launching an overwhelming offense.

The new budget, moreover, has forced the Air Force to make a choice between planes and missiles when it would have preferred to play safe by buying both. The operations people in the Air Force still want manned bombers in quantity, because it is known that manned bombers can put the payload on a target with precision.

But the weapons research people prefer to invest defense dollars in missiles, on the theory that missiles can carry a big enough warhead to compensate for their lack of precision. And administration planners have bought this argument, on the theory that every dollar not spent on a bomber is a dollar saved.

A portion of the new budget is earmarked for intermediate range ballistic missiles, to be supplied to European allies if they are willing. The considerations which dictated this allocation were largely political, not military.

Air Force operations people would much rather have devoted these funds to higher yield hardware. Liquid fuel IRBM's are tricky and difficult to handle. Their payload is small. For that reason, operations doubts IRBM installations in Europe will improve our strategic position sufficiently to justify the cost of the program. Add to this the frustration that arises because several European allies seem to think that they can drive a hard bargain because the program is essential to us.

Perhaps the Administration should be congratulated for pondering the political equation at a time when the balance of terror is slipping from us. But the opinion of this department is that the Administration is taking a frightful gamble. In the absence of workable arms controls agreements with the Russians, the peace may swing on maintaining the balance of terror in our favor.

Every sign indicates that the Russians are spending more on arms than ever. It is past denying that the Russians have edged us in devising tricks that will unlock the worlds of tomorrow.

Yet we are spending less on the Air Force, in terms of today's dollars, this year than last. And if inflation is considered, the slackening of our effort is even more marked.

Dr. Jordan Says

Be Thankful For Low Blood Pressure, Then Forget It

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

I really cannot imagine why so many people worry about low blood pressure.

In the first place, they would not know that their blood pressures are below "average" unless someone told them. In the second place, this is a physical finding which only rarely has any significance from the standpoint of disease.

Nevertheless, correspondence indicates that low blood pressure troubles many people, so it has to be discussed in this column more frequently than it really deserves.

Incidentally, most people who write to me on this subject do not have any symptoms of illness in connection with the alleged low blood pressure. When they do have headaches or something of that kind, there is grave question as to whether there is any connection between the low blood pressure and such symptoms.

As a general rule, low blood pressure is an asset rather than a liability. There are only a few definite disease conditions which are connected with low blood pressure. Most of these can be readily identified by the skilled physician.

Among these is a rather rare condition known as Addison's disease. This results from trouble in the tiny adrenal glands lying next to the kidneys. However, it is associated with other symptoms and does not come in question in most of those who have a blood pressure slightly below normal.

There are a few—but very few—other definite diseases which are associated with persistent or temporary lowering of the blood pressure.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Diefenbacher, D. D.

Thank-you notes have to be written to all those people who gave us gifts at Christmas. It is so hard to settle down to the task of expressing our appreciation. We try to excuse ourselves by pleading that we do not have the time. Occasionally we do not remember who gave us certain of the things which we received.

Some people do not know what to say. Others do not know how to express their feelings. A few are not even thankful. It would be better to say "Thank you for remembering me" than to say nothing.

We act toward God as we act toward our friends. We procrastinate about thanking God for His many gifts. We do not know what to say or how to pray. Let us not delay in expressing our thanks. It is as easy to say "Thank you for all that you have given me."

sure. But these, too, are unusual and can usually be identified with out great difficulty.

Once in a while someone will have a drop in blood pressure when moving from a lying or sitting position to a standing one. This may require some attention. It has the tongue-twisting name of chronic orthostatic hypotension.

It is doubtful that there are any symptoms which can be blamed on low blood pressure and nothing else. Some people who have low blood pressure may complain of lack of pep, but this is more likely to arise from some other cause than it is from low blood pressure.

There is no effective safe way to raise the blood pressure. Consequently, low blood pressure should be left alone unless some other condition is present which should be treated on its own account.

Unless definitely tied to some physical abnormality—and this is the exception—low blood pressure of itself is associated with a long life and generally above average health.

Too many people worry about low blood pressure. If they were not told about the condition, it would save a lot of trouble.

It's The Law

QUESTION: Is a debt cancelled when the finance company repossesses an automobile?

FACTS: Jones was out of work and the finance company repossessed his car for his failure to make the monthly payments. Jones didn't care too much since the car only sold for $290 and he still owed $500 on it. The finance company has now sued Jones for the difference, or $300. In the meantime Jones has purchased a newer and better car and he doesn't feel that he should have to pay for the old one.

DECISION: Jones had to pay the difference. He had signed a note promising to pay a certain sum of money. There was still a balance of $300 on the note due and owing after his automobile was sold. Since his old car was fairly sold and there was no fraud involved, Jones was required to pay the balance of $300 even though his old car was repossessed and he had brought another automobile.

Picturesque

Grand Canyon National Park, in Arizona, contains the most picturesque section of the Grand Canyon, cut by the mighty Colorado River. Four to 18 miles wide and a mile deep, the canyon is being cut deeper by the river which, on an average, carries nearly a million tons of sand and silt past any given point every 24 hours.

The Fat One Gives Way To 'Rawhide'

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The comics are in full rout.

Friday night, a Western called "Rawhide" took over in the spot occupied by Jackie Gleason. After a lackluster return to the home screen, the fat one gave up in midseason, victim of poor ratings.

Word also came that George Gobel, who will be bereft of his pal Eddie Fisher this March, will also lose a half-hour of his show. George Burns has been fighting for survival as a single, doing some of his shows live as a stimulus to tired ratings. Ed Wynn's show is already a casualty.

This was supposed to be the season for a comedy comeback!

But now it's tough to get a rating unless you ride a horse. Discounting the situation comedy shows, which require a story line to sustain interest, about the only surviving weekly practitioners of the fine art of being funny are Red Skelton and Milton Berle.

Some of my choicest memories of the early days of TV concern comedy: The elaborate spoofery of Sid Caesar-Imogene Coca, the suave pantomime of Alan Wynn and Donald O'Connor, Ed Wynn's Jimmy Durante shows.

So what happened?

I offer this thesis: Humor becomes less funny when it becomes more intrusive. Radio was a perfect medium for comedy because the listener could use his own imagination. When the visual image is added, humor declines. Red Skelton has survived because he is essentially a visual clown, whereas his colleagues are largely gag comics.

Berle has survived because... well, you explain it. His relentless assault on the funny bone seems to have an irresistible fascination for many.

Intrusion is compounded by weekly exposure to the funniness. Nobody can come into your home that often and be funny every time.

Perhaps the crowning blow to the comics is coming Saturday night. ABC's "Maverick" will do a satire on "Gunsmoke" that is reported to be a scream. When the Westerns go corraling laughs, what hope is left for the comedians?

Hollywood's Big Shortage Is Starpower

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The movie industry's biggest problem for 1959 is stardom.

This column has already explained how 12 top stars virtually rule the picture industry because of their drawing power. Now producers are discovering to their dismay that the draws are not as powerful as they're reputed to be.

A topflight industry source told me that at least two or three of the supposedly golden dozen have done so-so-to-poor business with their last three pictures.

"Most of the top names are getting too old to attract the younger audience, who make up the bulk of movie goers," this source remarked. "There are few younger names coming up these days. The supply of stars is getting to the critical stage; if it isn't solved, Hollywood is going to be in real trouble."

The figures seem to bear him out. Average age of the top 12 is 46. Only two, Marlon Brando and Tony Curtis, are in their 30s. Despite the declining box office for some of the mature stars, they still draw the big pictures. The reason for this is the changing economics of the film business. Many of the big pictures are made by independent producers, who must go to the banks for financing. Bankers are more willing to loan millions for a film if assured it will star a name actor.

There are some hopeful signs. The actresses seem to be making a comeback after being eclipsed by the male stars for a long period. Two women, Liz Taylor and Brigitte Bardot, made the top 10 of Motion Picture Herald's box office poll; last year the list was all-male.

Six other dolls—Doris Day, Kim Novak, Ingrid Bergman, Joanne Woodward, Debbie Reynolds and Deborah Kerr — made the list of the next 15 stars in box office power.

But most of today's dramas still center around men, and the males will still have to shoulder the major burden.

Reception By OES

Honor 36th District Deputy Grand Matron

A reception honoring Mrs. Genevieve Maune, district deputy grand matron of the 36th district of Missouri, Order of the Eastern Star, was held at the Masonic Temple Saturday evening, Jan. 3.

The chapter room, glowing with the Star of the East, was a veritable "Winter Wonderland" decorated in the east with a miniature forest of pink, white, and silver evergreens sprinkled with stars and a carpet of snow, while behind each star point station stood an evergreen shining with stars and lights in the worthy grand matron's colors of the year, pink, white and silver.

Distinguished guests seated in the east with the worthy matron, Mrs. Brookie Huffine and worth patron, Mr. Paul Bidstrup, were Mrs. Viola Coffman, past grand matron, Mr. John Owen, past grand patron and Mrs. Genevieve Maune, D.D.G.M.

Mrs. Mary Kennon, junior past matron, assisted by the star point officers, gave an impressive Bible ceremony, Miss Mary Lou Barnes singing "The Lord's Prayer," after which the American flag was borne to the east by Mr. Marvin Hackler. Mrs. Sandra Maune Hackler and Mr. Harold Hackler, Mr. Lon Morris gave a tribute to the flag and the pledge of allegiance was led by the worthy patron, Mr. Bidstrup.

Prior to the introduction of the guests Miss Wanda White sang the theme song of the evening, "Winter Wonderland."

Mrs. Viola Coffman, past grand matron and Mr. John Owen, past grand patron, were introduced and welcomed and birthday greetings were sung to Mrs. Coffman in honor of her natal day.

Mrs. Genevieve Maune, D.D.G.M. was introduced and escorted to the east by her husband, Mr. Elmer Maune. Miss Mary Lou Barnes honored her in song at this time with "We've Grown Accustomed to Your Face."

Other guests introduced at this time were past matrons and past patrons from Warsaw, Warrensburg, Leeton, Windsor, Knob Noster and Sedalia followed by members of the honoree's family: Mrs. Sandra Hackler, Mr. Harold Hackler, Mr. Marvin Maune, Mr. Fred Maune and Mr. and Mrs. Lynford Hackler.

A special ceremony of welcome, narrated by Mrs. Everett White, honoring Mrs. Maune was sung by Miss Wanda White, accompanied by Miss Doris Stott at the piano. Little Miss Janice Walker with her magic wand charmed the guests as she pirouetted about the Fairyland and gathered gifts from the star points for presentation to Mrs. Maune.

For the next ceremony Mr. Owen, past grand patron (in true Ernie Ford fashion) invited Genevieve to sit and chat with him so that he could inform her about "things she ought to know" about her work and plans. While they were seated on their milking stools Mrs. Coffman, past grand matron, called on the "Top 20" (members of the '35 club) to assist her in arranging for the proper contents for a beautiful bag to be given to Genevieve. Mr. Don McQueen made the presentation and the Cotton Pickers presented her with a huge Cotton Pickers bag. Mr. Goldman also presented a gift from the "Top 20" and Mr. Charlie Hofheins sang, "On the Street Where You Live."

Other gift presentations included one from the Associate Matron's and Associate Patron's Club with appropriate remarks by Mr. Bill Covey, the chapter kilt of pink rosebuds in a milk glass pitcher by Mrs. Anne Brown; the Conductress and Associate Conductress Club gift by Mrs. Florence Bohon and the Past Matron's, Past Patron's Club gift was presented by Mrs. Irene Auglar.

Mrs. Maune, in her gracious manner thanked the chapter for the privilege of serving as district deputy grand matron and expressed her appreciation to each one who had a part in arranging such a wonderful party, the gifts, the warm welcome in song, word and skit. She expressed pleasure in wearing a beautiful corsage which had been given her by Mr. and Mrs. Lon Morris and her husband, the "greenery" (the money) which she requested be given to the Estaryl Fund, an educational fund for students interested in religious training.

Other distinguished guests who made talks were Mrs. Coffman, past grand matron, Sedalia; Mr. John Owen, past grand patron, of Warsaw, Mo., and Mrs. Betty Matthews, Knob Noster.

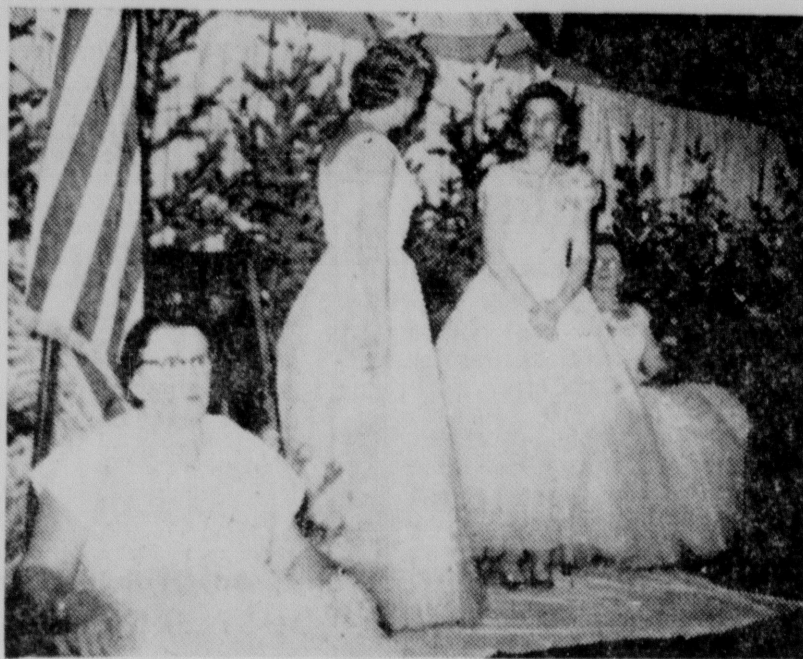

Several telegrams were acknowledged. The benediction was given by Mr. Lee Peabody after which the Worthy Matron, Mrs. Huffine invited all the guests to the dining room for refreshments. The dining room was lovely, the "Winter Wonderland" theme being carried out in decorations, favors, snowball cakes and punch. Mrs. Lila Burl Sammons was in charge of the dining room festivities.
